Federal Executive Branch Overreaching…
Air, Land, Water & Property Rights

Saturday, June 14th 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM
Sunday, June 15th 9:00 AM – 2:00 PM
Fremont County Fairgrounds in Riverton, Wyoming

The Wyoming CERF/CERA Conference will inform and educate state, county and local leaders, and citizens with specifics of federal Indian policy (FIP) that impact Fremont County, its municipalities, citizens and property owners living within or near the Wind River Indian Reservation. We encourage local government officials and staff, and citizens to vigorously push back on the constant overreaching of federal government agencies that make decisions expanding tribal government authority and jurisdiction beyond its limited authority to self-govern only its tribal members and federal Indian trust properties. Escalating on a parallel path to Indian policy, the federal Executive Branch is rolling out "Rogue" with BLM, USFW, EPA, and increasingly militarizing federal employees.

FIP is a quiet, below-the-radar conversation between federal agency officials and tribal government leaders. Citizens and most tribal members are minimally informed about major federal decisions that land upon their doorstep. Attending a CERF/CERA conference will provide local leaders, residents and property owners with the tools and courage to stand upon supportive judicial rulings and the Constitutional principles that guarantee property rights, citizen and state sovereignty. The subject content and range of issues to be addressed has caused CERA to expand this conference to two days. Attendees will get a crash course on federal Indian policy and numerous federal government agencies moving out across Western States at warp speed. A few topics include:

- ★ Recent and powerful federal court cases supportive of state, local and citizen rights
- ★ EPA Air Quality Regulations, Treatment as State (TAS)
- ★ Voices from Wyoming & other Western States
- ★ Water – Push for 100% of navigable water to tribal governments since "time immemorial."
- ★ Land status – BLM, Federal Land Policy Management Act (FLPMA)
- ★ State, Citizen and Tribal Sovereignty - Utah's Public Lands Transfer Act
- ★ Success stories to assist local municipalities and residents
- ★ Growing the voices – one informed and strong person at a time.

Join CERF/CERA for two-days of fast paced learning, interaction/understanding of how Federal Indian Policy affects you and how you can protect/defend your property & citizen rights in Wyoming and all of our States.
