2015 REGIONAL EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

THIS LAND IS OUR LAND...OR IS IT?
Corrupt & Unconstitutional Federal Indian Policy
And Rogue Federal Agencies

SEPTEMBER 26, RED LION HOTEL, KALISPELL, MT.

CERA's regional conference is an "instant training center" for elected officials, law enforcement, community leaders and citizens who are concerned about federal Indian policy conflicts. The CERA Conference is an excellent opportunity to exchange experience, success, and effective strategies to carry back to your local communities and states.

Registration Fees: Individual: $40 Couple: $70 (In Advance)
 (At the Door) Individual: $50 Couple: $80 (At the door)

Featured speakers include among others, Lana Marcussen, AZ, national legal expert on water and federal Indian policy, Lawrence J. Kogan, NY, Kogan Law Group; Richard Heidel, Village President Village of Hobart, WI; Elaine Willman, MT, author of Going to Pieces; Doug Thompson, WY, Fremont County Commission Chairman; Debbie Bacigalupi, Siskiyou County, CA; Frank Kowalkowski, WI Indian law attorney Butch Cranford, CA, Fee-to-Trust Researcher.

The hotel group conference rate of $99.00 (2 double-beds/room) is available through August 28, 2015. These rooms will go quickly with a short window (by August 28th!) so reserve now! The Red Lion Hotel rates are very affordable post-tourist season, and it is a lovely facility attached to a large shopping mall with abundant restaurants nearby. Mention "Citizens Equal Rights Alliance" when making reservations. NOTE: See Box on right -- >

My most important Issue is: _____

Federal Indian policy is unaccountable, destructive, racist and unconstitutional. It is therefore CERA and CERF's mission to ensure "the equal protection of the law" so that this nation of many cultures may be one people living under one constitutional system of laws.:
